Canton is now called Guangzhou [pronounced Kwang-chow-foo] and is on the banks of the Pearl River. Canton was important to the tea trade, and had been occupied by British forces, under the Command of Sir Charles Staubenzee, son of Major Thomas van Staubenzee of Spennithorne Hall, between 1856 and 1861.

In 1911 he was in Worksop, Nottinghamshire, visiting Richard Ledger. whilst Frances and her mother were in Bradford.

Silvester Whitehead was a Methodist Minister from 1863 until 1917.

He went to China in 1866 and was there for eleven years, returning to take up circuit appointments. Just before he set off for Canton in 1866 he took the Chapel Anniversary at Preston under Scar. On his return in 1877 he was sent to be a minister in Darlington, but regularly attended and spoke at the national meetings of the Wesleyan Missionary Society.

On behalf of the Missionary Society he went to preach in Belfast in 1879 at the University Road Church. He became noted as an eloquent speaker and preacher, addressing harvest festivals, anniversaries, missionary meetings and Bible Societies around the country. But in October 1879 he was in Masham, where a special service was held and he delivered his lecture on the "Religions in China". In the same month in York he addressed the Juvenile Missionary Association, strongly denouncing the shocking traffic in opium.

In 1880 he was appointed to the Scarborough Circuit. Silvester kept in contact with the dales as in August 1882 he came back to preach at the opening of East Witton Methodist Chapel. A few weeks later he addressed Missionary meetings in York and then Boroughbridge. In April 1883 he was preaching at a meeting in Bodmin, Cornwall. At the 1883 Methodist Conference Silvester was stationed at Cheetham Hill, Manchester. On 17th April 1884 Silvester sailed out of Liverpool for a visit to America and Canada .

On 17th June 1884 The New York Times reported -
The Methodist preachers met yesterday morning at St Paul's Church, Twenty-second street and Fourth-avenue, to greet the delegates from the Wesleyan Conference of England, who have been attending the General Conference of the Methodist church at Philadelphia. The delegates are the Rev. Robert Newton Young, secretary of the British Wesleyan Conference and Classical Tutor of the Wesleyan Training College at Birmingham , and the Rev Sylvester Whitehead, Superintendent of the Cheetham Hill Circuit, of Manchester , England, and for a number of years a missionary in China.... the two Reverends from England then addressed their brothers and sisters, both speaking against Catholic doctrine .

In June 1886 he was part of a distinguished line up of Methodist Reverends who spoke at the opening of a new Methodist Chapel in Douglas, Isle of Man. Then in 1887 he went back to preach at Darlington at the re-opening of Bondgate Chapel after alterations. By 1887 Silvester was ministering in Southport and by 1890 was the superintendent of the Circuit. In 1891 he was appointed to take a post at the Wesleyan Mission House in addition to circuit work. By 1892 he was in the Manchester District, at Eccles. But in May 1893 came back to Redmire to open a new Sunday School. In August 1895 the Methodists in the dales all gathered together at Aysgarth to celebrate the centenary of the Middleham Methodist Circuit , with Rev Silvester Whitehead of Eccles as the preacher .

In 1895 Silvester was sent to minister at Clifton in the Bristol and Bath District. But then in 1897 he was appointed to be the Chair of the Halifax and Bradford district and also minister of Mannigham church. In 1900 Silvester was in Truro speaking at the annual meeting of the Wesleyan Foreign Missions.

In the year 1904 -1905 he was President of the Methodist Conference. He then was a governor and tutor at Handsworth College, Birmingham. In 1908 he was Chairman of the Birmingham and Shrewbury Methodist District.

The Times reported his death in the edition of 8th January 1917. Born in Aysgarth in Wensleydale, his life was truly that of an "Itinerant Preacher", always on the move, in great demand the length and breadth of the country and abroad.

Silvester had married twice, his first wife, Isabella Foster from Pateley Bridge, died in Newcastle on the 3rd July 1881. He then married Frances Craven in 1887. Three children had been born in China to his first wife, Florence Elizabeth in 1870, Annie Isabella in 1872 and Sylvester Foster in 1874. By his second wife there were two sons, Norman Craven in 1889 and Kenneth Silvester in 1891.
